March 27, 2002 LB 1309

determined that it is so broken that the whole thing needs to be abolished, and there are other judges who feel the same way. It is not worth the trouble that it has created, so in this instance, the so-called cure is far worse than the supposed disease. So what my amendment is designed to do is suspend the program for a year, and that gives us an opportunity to come in with legislation that would abolish it by repealing all of the statutory references to this program. So I hope you will pay attention to the discussion, but before I sit down this time around, I'd like to ask Senator Connealy a question or two in his role as the Chairperson of the Business and Labor Committee.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Senator Connealy, would you respond?

SENATOR CONNEALY: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Connealy, has this been an ongoing problem which the committee has looked at?

SENATOR CONNEALY: Yes, it has.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: In an attempt to do something about it, have you convened or attempted to convene a meeting or meetings with all of the parties who would have an interest in this?

SENATOR CONNEALY: Yes, multiple meetings from last session until the start of this session, we had meetings with all interested parties.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And could you mention some of the parties and the position they took?

SENATOR CONNEALY: With DMV, the Treasurer's Office was asked to be involved, with the Attorney General and county attorneys.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And what was their position on an approach you thought might work? Could you tell us the approach and what their position was if such a thing had happened.

SENATOR CONNEALY: My initial approach was to solve this outside the legislative process, to administratively solve it. No one
